WHY WOOD BADGE?

Reflecting the best of nearly a century of Scouting experience, Wood Badge draws upon the most current leadership models used by corporate America, academic circles, and successful organizations throughout the country.

Wood Badge training was begun by Baden Powell in 1919 to ensure that the leaders of Scout troops were properly trained. Since then, Wood Badge has been held worldwide, providing advanced leadership training to thousands of Scout leaders.

Wood Badge builds upon the best traditions and experiences of the Boy Scouts of America and draws from a wide range of courses within and beyond the bounds of Scouting to present the latest in leadership theory and team development.

The program consists of two parts:

1. Practical Training

During this five-day course, you will live the patrol method. As a member of a patrol, you will practice skills of leadership and learn how to apply these skills in your role as an adult scouting leader. You will renew your scouting spirit and enthusiasm. You will do a better job leading in scouting and beyond!

2. Applying what you Learn

During Practical Training, you will write your "Ticket" - a set of five goals designed by you to be accomplished by you. You will work your ticket, utilizing aspects of what you learn in the course. A Ticket Counselor will work with you to provide help and encouragement as you accomplish your goals. You will provide service to others, strengthen your unit's scouting program, and you will experience great personal growth as you meet your goals within 18 months after the final day of class.

HOUSING AND EQUIPMENT

You will sleep in non-heated cabins during the first session and move to an outdoor setting for the second session, sleeping in your personal tent. Meals for the first weekend are provided and served in the training building. For the outdoor weekend, each patrol will cook its own meals, with their own equipment and from their own menu.

Partial Scholarships Available

Partial scholarships are available if you have a financial need, your unit cannot help or if all other sources of funding have been exhausted. Contact course director, John Leighton, for more information.
